In the Fall of 1991, a college student decided to get into the restaurant business at his alma mater. He knew a little about hot wings and a little about beer. He wanted to open a place to satisfy both. It was in a small college town in the Deep South. There were many obstacles and mountains of red tape to deal with before opening. After selling his prized baseball card collection for financing, he opened Jefferson's and the business took off and continues today. That was in 1991. A lot has changed since those early days. Jefferson's has grown and now has locations in 6 states and built a loyal following. Although getting bigger, Jefferson's still has that neighborhood feel. We strive to be a family friendly sports restaurant with award winning wings, huge juicy burgers, fresh gulf oysters and crisp salads. We feel it is important to serve quality food at a quality price.

Thanks for coming!
